What’s happening Week 9?

UCLA Luskin Diversity Recruitment Fair
Join us at the annual UCLA Luskin Diversity Recruitment Fair to learn how social justice work intersects with the missions of the departments of Public Policy, Social Welfare, and Urban Planning. Come meet current students, alumni, and staff who will talk about their work in a wide range of fields, and bring a draft of your statement of purpose for review. The event is free and breakfast and lunch will be provided. The event will take place Saturday, December 2nd at the UCLA Public Affairs Building from 9:30am to 4:00pm. To RSVP, visit https://www.eventbrite.com/e/ucla-luskin-diversity-recruitment-fair-tickets-37128790211.

LGBTQ Student Leadership Retreat
UCLA’s LGBTQ Student Leadership Council and UCLA’s LGBT Campus Resource Center are partnering to host the second annual LGBTQ Student Leadership Retreat for undergraduate students. The goal of the retreat is to help emerging LGBTQ campus leaders further develop their leadership skills and expand their networks. By participating, students will gain confidence in their leadership abilities and be well positioned to take on leadership positions across the university. We hope that this emboldening of LGBTQ leadership will bolster queer visibility and help address LGBTQ needs at UCLA. Please note, a maximum of 60 students will be able to attend the retreat. Priority will be given to first and second year students including first year transfers. Leadership opportunities also exist for students who attended the retreat last year and wish to serve as student facilitators this year. The retreat will occur January 12-14, and the deadline to apply is Friday, December 1st. To apply, please fill out the form here: https://goo.gl/forms/wl9In8sA02lICiuL2.

Unsure of Your Career Direction? Assess Yourself!
Are you dreading the “What are you going to do after graduation” question? Attend the workshop series hosted by the Career Center to give you a starting point on how to respond at the next family gathering. Workshops will be occurring from November 28th to November 30th. These workshops will assess your personality, skills, and interests. To attend, RSVP for each workshop through Bruinview by November 27th. For personality and interests, take the assessment online by November 27th. For more information, visit http://career.ucla.edu/.

The Undergraduate Education Initiatives (UEI) unit collaborates with faculty and departments across campus to design, implement, and promote innovative, interdisciplinary educational programs for UCLA students. Keep reading to learn more about the opportunities available through UEI!

USIE
Undergraduate Student Initiated Education (USIE) is a program available to select junior and seniors to develop and facilitate, under close faculty supervision, a lower division seminar for their peers. The application and selection period occurs during Spring Quarter. During the Fall and Winter Quarters, selected student facilitators work closely with their faculty mentors in two 1-unit independent study courses (one each quarter) focused on the content-area of their proposed seminar. Additionally, student facilitators enroll in two 1-unit pedagogy seminars in which various facilitation strategies and techniques are discussed in preparation for leading a spring seminar. Through these courses, student facilitators develop a formal syllabus for their spring seminars for review and approval by the USIE Faculty-Student Advisory Committee and the Faculty Executive Committee.

Jumpstart
Jumpstart is an AmeriCorps program for UCLA undergraduates that promotes literacy among preschool students. Students from all majors are welcome to apply for this one-year program working with local preschools. Join Jumpstart to put children first! Earn an AmeriCorps education award and work-study while teaching early literacy! To join Jumpstart, visit their office at A-266 Murphy Hall.

Startup UCLA
The mission of Startup UCLA is to promote and develop entrepreneurial competence among UCLA students and alumni. Through a suite of programs and offerings, they provide Bruins with guidance, information, networking, and technical assistance to help their ventures succeed. By deploying the pedagogic approaches of active and inquiry-based learning, all participants are encouraged to consider entrepreneurship as a viable career option. Programs include Blackstone LaunchPad, a structured counseling program to help introduce entrepreneurship, and Summer Accelerator, an advanced and intensive 10-week accelerator program for tech startups.

Justice Corps
Justice Corps is an AmeriCorps program designed to provide equal access to justice for those who cannot afford an attorney. Through the Los Angeles Superior Court, students are trained and supervised by attorneys. After completing 600 hours, students are eligible for an education award or “service scholarship,” which ranges from $1,300 to $1,700. Academic credit is also available through the UCLA Center for Community Learning.

CONDUITS
Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own ASK Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Looking for a place to study for finals? Thanks to UCLA Academics on the Hill, a program aimed to enrich students’ on-campus living experiences by providing academic programs and services, you won’t need to leave the Hill. Academics on the Hill will be proctoring Finals Study Nights on 12/9-12/13 from 6pm-2am at Carnesale Commons, De Neve Plaza, and Covel Grand Horizon. Feast also will be opened continuously from 12/8 at 11pm through 12/11 at 5am (that’s 54 hours!). If you are feeling exhausted from all that studying, stop by the Study Break event on December 9th from 6-8pm at Carnesale Palisades. Relax and de-stress with massages, painting, smoothies, coffees, and much more. For more information about the hours and locations of all the cool events, visit their Facebook page @academicsonthehill, or email them at academics@orl.ucla.edu.
