What’s happening Week 5?

Chicana and Chicano Studies Major/Minor Info Session
Interested in Chicana and Chicano Studies major or minor? The César E. Chávez Department of Chicana/o Studies cordially invites you to our information session of the quarter. Learn all about the Chicana/o Studies major and minor requirements, Departmental Honors, and travel abroad on Wednesday, November 1st from 2-3:30 pm in 7386 Bunche Hall. For more information, contact the student advisor Ellie Hernández at studentadvisor@chavez.ucla.edu or RSVP at goo.gl/TAzngz.

Food Studies Minor Info Session
Interested in learning more about food and its relation to our society? If so, join us for an information session Tuesday, October 31st from 3:30-4:30 PM about UCLA’s Food Studies minor, which uses food—its production, preparation, sharing, consumption, and disposal—as a lens for understanding individual, socio-cultural, and global issues. Topics discussed during the session include a general overview of the minor, requirements, and how to apply. Sign-up on MyUCLA (Workshops > Search “Food Studies Minor Information Session”) or visit www.foodstudies.ucla.edu.

Enrollment Workshops
Need help selecting courses for Winter Quarter? Have questions about the two pass enrollment process? Attend an Enrollment Workshop on 11/01, 11/02, 11/03, or 11/06! These 60 minute workshops will answer all your questions about the enrollment process. We will also review where to find options for you Winter Quarter GE and major courses. After a short presentation, College Academic Mentors will be available to assist you 1-on-1 in planning your study list for next quarter. Sign up for a workshop via MyUCLA > Academics > Workshops.

Financial Wellness Appointment Hours
Interested in learning how to effectively manage your finances? Make an appointment with UCLA’s Financial Wellness Program! Their mission is to empower all Bruins to navigate their finances and foster financial literacy skills through workshops, coaching, and online educational efforts. Appointments are available at various locations across campus. Make an appointment online today at www.financialwellness.ucla.edu.

Enrollment Procedures

As enrollment for Winter 2018 approaches, here is everything you need to know about the two-pass system UCLA uses for enrollment.

Undergraduate Student Enrollment

A two-pass enrollment system is used for UCLA’s 31,000 undergraduate students to ensure that everyone has an equal opportunity to enroll in premajor, major, and GE courses needed to graduate. To enroll in the next term, eligible undergraduates are given two randomly assigned appointments which fall within pass periods that are prioritized as follows: 1. Students in priority groups, 2. Seniors with 160 completed units who have declared candidacy to graduate within the next two terms, 3. Seniors with 160 or more units who have not declared candidacy, 4. New and re-entering students eligible for advance payment and/or enrollment, 5. Seniors with fewer than 160 units (135-159.9 units), 6. Juniors with fewer than 135 units (90-134.9 units), 7. Sophomores with fewer than 90 units (45-89.9 units), 8. Freshmen with fewer than 45 units (0-44.9 units). When determining class level, a student’s current term units are included and enrollment appointment times are assigned based off that projected classification. Please note that AP and IB units are not included in your projected classification.

First Pass

During your first pass, you may enroll in up to 10 units. This gives all undergraduates an opportunity to obtain at least two courses needed towards graduation. Students who do not enroll during their first pass must wait until their second pass in order to enroll.

Second Pass

During your second pass, you may add courses up to the maximum number of units allowed by your College or school. For the College of Letters and Science, the unit maximum is 19 units. Students can enroll from the beginning of their assigned enrollment appointment time through midnight on Friday of the second week of classes, when waitlists are eliminated and Study Lists of enrolled courses becomes official. Students should be enrolled in courses with unit credit to avoid paying the late Study List filing fee and obtaining instructor signatures and College/school approval on enrollment petitions.

How and Where to Enroll

Log onto your MyUCLA account and click on the “Classes” tab found in the top header. Under the “Enrollment” section, click “Enrollment Home.” From here, you can find, add, drop, and exchange classes and sections in addition to a variety of other enrollment functions. On this page, you may additionally find links to guides that will help you understand each enrollment operation. In order to find your enrollment appointment for first and second pass, go to your myUCLA account and click the “Enrollment Appointments” link.

CONDUITS

Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own ASK Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Not sure what classes to take next quarter? Stressed about enrollment? Don’t remember every detail from orientation? Come out to Orientation Part 2! New Student Advisors will be available for drop-in counseling and program planning in preparation for Winter Quarter course enrollment on November 1 and 2 from 6-9pm in the Palisades Room in Carnesale Commons. NSAs will be available to help you plan your classes for winter quarter, provide a refresher on how to enroll into your classes, and provide information about majors, minors, and preparing for graduate and professional school. This evening is drop-in style, but if you would like to schedule an advising appointment, you may do so by following the directions on this link: http://newstudents.ucla.edu/transition-programs/orientation-part-2/#tab-id-1
